About Dance Project: the School at City Arts

We are accessible quality instruction. We provide comprehensive training for people of all ages and skill levels in a nurturing atmosphere that fosters growth, a healthy lifestyle, self-esteem and artistry. We focus on teaching the whole dancer in a non-competitive environment where dancing is fun and rewarding. Our students learn an awareness of how the body works, the specifics of dance technique, and how movement can be used expressively. All of our teachers are college educated dance professionals with prior instructional experience and passion for their art form.

At the Dance Project, we strive to instill a sense of community awareness and service. Thus we join our dance training with opportunities for community performance. Each spring, students participate in our Spring Showcase for their family and friends, and you might also see us out performing in various Greensboro locations - retirement centers, schools, fairs, etc! Additionally, we offer need-based scholarships and keep our costs low to make our program more accessible to everyone in the community.

Whether you are looking for a new experience, a means of staying fit, or a professional career, you and your child deserve the best instruction around. From all the teachers and staff at the Dance Project, we hope you enjoy dancing with us!
